READ AND YOU WILL LEARN

That the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula on the bottle wrapper is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous or harmful agents and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful ingredient in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent, medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Automobile Accident.

In an automobile accident at Asbury Park, N. J., yesterday afternoon, Harry Isaacson, aged 18, chauffeur for Percy Foggarty, of New York, received injuries from which he afterwards died, and Misses Rena and Gussie Belasco, daughters of David Belasco, the theatrical manager, were slightly hurt.

The accident occurred at the junction of Sixth and Grand avenues, a dangerous spot. A big machine in which were Isaac T. Strauss, of Newark, the Misses Belasco and the chauffeur were traveling, it is said, at a speed of 30 miles an hour, when it crashed into the runabout of Mr. Foggarty, occupied by Mr. Foggarty and his chauffeur. The runabout was knocked against a telegraph pole and smashed, the chauffeur being hurled to the sidewalk, landing on his head. His skull was fractured.

The Misses Belasco jumped when the automobiles came together. One of them had two front teeth knocked out. Mr. Foggarty was caught between the steering wheel and seat, but was not badly hurt. Both machines were wrecked.

Mr. Strauss and Mr. Foggarty were each held under $2,000 bail to answer for Isaacson's death.

William Herring, of Asbury Park, who was run over by a machine owned by J. K. Newman, a New York banker, at Belmont, Saturday night, died Saturday night at Spring Lake Hospital. His skull was fractured. Newman's chauffeur is held under $2,000 bail on the manslaughter charge.

Bishop Assaulted

News of an assault upon Monsignor Mutel, Roman Catholic bishop of Seoul, was brought to Victoria, B. C., Saturday by the steamer Tartar. It seems that some Japanese soldiers entered the Cathedral during service smoking and laughing, disturbing the service. The bishop went to the men and told them they must desist or leave the edifice. Finally one of the Japanese soldiers struck the bishop a heavy blow in the face. Gendarmes were sent for, the soldiers arrested and the bishop proceeded with the service.

Trouble has arisen between Japan and Russia regarding the delay of the new Russian consul general, M. Platcon, in Korea, owing to difficulties over his exequator, which Russia holds must be signed by the Emperor of Korea, while Japan declines to indorse that view, holding the Mikado to be the proper source.

Dalny will be opened by the Japanese government as a free port, this move being due to the efforts to draw the trade of Manchuria from Yingkow via the south Liaotung port.

A revival of Boxerism and considerable brigandage is reported from various sections of north China. In the Amur district a number of Chinese officials have been murdered. In Manchuria brigands held up a train and robbed the passengers of valuables, with the result that Japan has placed guards on all trains.

Minister Praises Lee.

Selecting the Sunday morning following Decoration day, Rev. T. S. McWilliams of the Calvary Presyberian church in Cleveland, Ohio, took occasion to pay a tribute to the soldiers of the south who fought in the civil war and especially to eulogize Gen. Robert E. Lee. At the conclusion of the sermon many warm hearted southerners pressed forward to thank the preacher for his words, while union soldiers were equally warm in their praise of Dr. McWilliams' remarks.

"I take this first sabbath after Decoration day to lay a modest garland upon the grave of the great confederate chieftain, Robert E Lee," declared the minister. "To do this one need steal no flowers from the graves of the men who wore the blue. On the countrary, their glory is heightened by admitting the greatness and genius of the general against whom they fought and the courage and devotion of the men who followed him, To do this it is not necessary that we should defend secession or slavery. It is enough for us to acknowledge the honesty of those who believed that the law protected and sanctioned slavery and preserved to the south the right to deal with the problem in its own way. In holding up the virtures of Robert E. Lee I would not fail to impress the fact that the great general was preeminently a Christian and a lover of Christ."

Huge Candle.

Rassalle Dellacroce, a native of Sciacco, Sicily, was taken ill with rheumatism in his home in New York a year ago. His wife, Carmelo, prayed daily to her patron saint, St. Calogeri, and at last vowed to offer the largest candle ever manufactured, should her husband recover. He moved to Tampa, Fla., and there regained his health. By Mrs.

Dellacroce's order, the candle was shipped a day or two ago from the store of Ajello Brothers to Tampa. Mrs. Dellacroce had vowed that the candle should weigh as much as her husband, and the one she ordered weighs 182½ pounds. It is fifteen feet high, eighteen inches in diameter at the base and twelve inches at the top. Upon it is painted a picture of the Madonna of the Chair. The candle cost $250, and, according to the manufacturers, it will burn for a year and a half. It was lighted in a Tampa church last Saturday at the celebration of the feast of St. Calogeri.

Extra Choice Head CAROLINA RICE Just received by J. C. MILBURN.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 18, 1906.

MRS. CHARLES SKINNER, of Jackson, Pa., a seventy-year-old woman, who on Saturday took her first ride on a railroad train, was so frightened that the train was stopped and she was permitted to alight, owing to fear that she would die of fright. With her son she started from home near Benton, to go to Danville to visit relatives. No sooner train started, she saw the landving past, heard the rumble of ls, and felt the motion of the n she began to scream and in a vas hysterical and struggling to finally became necessary to stop the train and allow her to alight. It is said that many years ago an old woman who had read of numerous railroad accidents and could not be induced to get on a train was eventually persuaded to try a ride on the rail. The train was wrecked before it reached its destination, and the passengers were thrown in every direction. The crew were soon busy in aiding the injured, and when they came to the old woman, who had been thrown across the car on a bandbox, and asked her if she was hurt, she didn't realize that there had been an accident, and when told what had occurred she replied, "I thought they always stopped this way."

THOMAS H. WHITE, who conducted a so-called college in Baltimore, in which he sold a "higher correspondence course" in spiritualism, magnetism, hypnotism and the white and black art, has been found guilty by a jury in the United States District Court on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails. Sentence was suspended pending a motion for a new trial. The trial lasted for nearly two weeks, and in its course witnesses from many distant States, including Texas and Minnesota, were examined for the government, all of whom testified that in response to advertisements in magazines they had sent by mail sums ranging from $2 to $7 for "life readings," charm parchments and a "magic Egyptian breastplate" advertised as a cure for every human ill, all of which had proved to be without any virtue or merit whatsoever. It is said that White's receipts amounted to between $1,200 and $1,500 a week. Barnum uttered the truth when he said the people loved to be humbugged.

ANOTHER serious result of hazing is is reported. Marshall Overton, a student at Watkins High School, in Rochester, N. Y., is in a serious condition at his home, near Reading, Penn., the result of being hazed last Tuesday night. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of several persons connected with the case. Overton was in the building on Tuesday night with other students, rehearsing music. When he emerged from the building at 9:30 o'clock he was pounced upon by ten or twelve students, who dragged him over the ground to a dark corner and left him in an unconscious condition. Persons living near the school heard Overton's cries, and at once called an officer, who found the young man in a serious condition. A doctor found that Overton was paralyzed on one side It is high time such senseless and cruel practices had ceased.

TAKING advantage of his annual sermon to the graduating class, Chancellor Day, of Syracuse University, has again defended the large corporations or trusts as the result of a law with phenomena as unmistakable as any law in nature, and has again warned the President against assuming too much power. He protests against the coercion of Congress in the matter of the beef trust exposure by appeals to popular passion, and says that if a fraction of the charges of meat poisoning was true thousands of people would have been killed. Chancellor Day is dead right in his warning to the President against assuming too much power and in his protest against the coercion of Congress, but he is way off in his conclusions about the beef trust meat poisoning people, for thousands it is believed have been killed by the meat.

IT SEEMS that the Philippine service has not proven attractive to Americans. Secretary Fergusson, in his annual report to Governor-General Ide, says that the executive bureau is having trouble in getting Americans who will remain in the service, and that the grade of men coming from the United States is below the standard of the clerical force sent to the islands several years ago. Although the executive bureau has been established over four years, only five Americans are included in the office force of 137 persons. Americans were never intended for the Philippines, nor the Philippines for Americans.

MUCH interest in college circles has been taken in the attack on sport by President Chamberlin, of McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., in his annual report. Besides recommending the unconditional abolition of football, Dr. Chamberlin virtually laid much of the current grafting and anarchistic tendencies to the prevailing spirit and practice of intercollegiate games. President Chamberlain's report is food for thought for those engaged in educational work, for whether a mere coincidence or not, certain it is that grafting and colleges games seem now to be at their zenith.

THE question, do the police protect? is as applicable to this city as any in the country. On Friday night a store in the most prominent section of the city was robbed. The store is situated on a block with two banks and within one hundred yards of the police station. The regular police are supposed to be on duty and the banks and many of the stores on this block employ private watchmen. On Saturday night the store occupied by a firm of which the chief of police is the head was also robbed. Where are the police "at?"

THE prophecy of a social revolution without bloodshed in 1910 in France has been made by M. Guesde, the new leader of the socialists in the chamber of deputies. At that time he says that the attitude of the socialists will be so menacing that the capitalist government will call out the army, but as the army will refuse to fire, "the revolution will be bloodless."

NINE HUNDRED AND NINETY-NINE years in the penitentiary was the sentence given to a negro in Texas Saturday for assault on a young white girl. In some States shorter work would have been made of the case.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, June 18.

Upon the return this morning of Chairman Wadsworth, of the House committee on agriculture, from Geneseo, N. Y., the committee went into executive session to consider the amendments to the meat inspection bill proposed by President Roosevelt. The session of the committee was short. Chairman Wadsworth and Representative Brooks, of Colorado, were authorized to put the inspection provision into shape, and to report to the full committee when their work had been done, after full conference with the Agricultural Department. Speaker Cannon will then present the bill to the President before further action is taken. One point yet remains in controversy, and that is whether the words "in the judgment of the Secretary of Agriculture," shall go into the bill. The President wants them there; the committee does not. They say these words will preclude the possibility of an appeal of any character to the courts. No agreement has yet been reached, either as to whether the labels shall bear the date of when the meat product was prepared. It is believed, however, that the President will allow the labels to remain undated. An agreement on all other points has been practically reached. The court review feature will go out, also the provision suspending the operations of the civil service law as applied to inspectors. The cost of inspection will be placed on the government. On motion of Mr. Wadsworth the House, today, recommitted the report on the beef inspection amendment to the House committee on agriculture, in order that the committee may perfect it along the lines indicated.

It was announced this afternoon that an agreement has now been practically reached not to put words "in the judgment of the Secretary of Agriculture" into the bill. This would remove the most serious obstacle to the complete agreement.

A review of the prospects of this year's tobacco crop by the Department of Agriculture indicates that the acreage planted this year may be smaller than last year and that the yield will be smaller also. On account of dry weather in May throughout the country, the sowing was greatly delayed and the department declines to make a definite estimate of the acreage planted on May 25, the date of the reports of its agents. An estimate will be announced on July 10. In the Virginia sun-dried district, the Virginia dark district and bright yellow district come reports of reduced acreage, largely on account of lack of labor. In the Carolinas a poor stand was obtained. In Maryland dry weather delayed the planting.

Train Wrecked.

The Twentieth Century flyer on the Lake Shore Railroad was wrecked near West Seneca, two miles west of Buffalo, early yesterday morning. The wreck was a bad one, and it is considered miraculous that no one was killed.

One day coach and five sleepers were badly smashed. The wreck, it is believed, was caused by a split rail. The coupling between the engine and the first car broke, and the engine bumped along the ties for 500 feet before it was brought to a stop.

There were 67 passengers on the train. All of them were badly shaken up and a few slighly bruised, but not one of them received injuries that necessitated the immediate attention of a physician.

The train, which was east bound, was running at the rate of 60 miles an hour when the accident occurred. All of the sleepers were derailed. Two tracks were torn up.

The massive construction of the Pullmans and the level, firm roadbed were the two factors which prevented loss of life.

Today's Telegraphic News

Massacre of Hebrews in Russia.

Berlin, June 18.—Regarding the massacre of Hebrews at Bialystok, Russia, last week, Dr. Nathan, chairman of the association of German Jews, in an interview with the correspondent of the Publishers' Press today said: "We have absolutely authentic proof that the Bialystok massacre was the beginning of an elaborate scheme of anti-Semitic outbreaks arranged to take place in all parts of Russia. We have proofs that a terrible conspiracy exists to exterminate the Jews in Russia. Anti-Semitic fanatics have taken the initiative and the central government, also the local authorities are warmly supporting Jew-baiting because it diverts the attention of the populace from the necessity of political reforms and affords them an opportunity for venting the discontent on the Jews. Messages from all parts of Russia reach me hourly appealing for protection. The lives of thousands, even hundreds of thousands of Jews, are endangered, and in the next few days the civilized world will witness unprecedented atrocities in Russia."

Vienna, June 18.—The correspondent of the Nowa Reforma at Cracow telegraphs from Bialystok, where he was sent for his paper to send the story of an eye witness to the recent massacres. This person says that at 3 o'clock in the morning following the first day's outbreak, troops marched to a forest where 300 Jews were in hiding, and fired several volleys into the fugitives. Eighty persons were killed and many wounded. The correspondent estimates the total number of persons killed in the city and district at 1 500. The slaughter continued yesterday.

Odessa, Russia, June 18.—A dispatch received here from Bialystok says that the bodies of ninety Jews are in the mortuary of a hospital there and one hundred other Jewish corpses in the mortuary of the sanitarium. One third of the bodies are horribly mutilated, showing the manner in which the mobs worked and how they abused their victims. The casualties among the Gentiles are given at six killed and eight wounded. The people are worked to a high nervous condition today owing to the fears that there might be an outbreak in this city. The Governor, however, succeeded in quieting the rough element and the feeling is better.

Warsaw, Poland, June 18.—Anti-Jewish riots have broken out in the towns of Zabludow, Goniondz and Ossowiee, located near Bialystok, which was the scene of the recent massacres. The chief of police of Warsaw has issued a proclamation warning the people that any attempt to provoke anti-semitic riots here will be crushed by troops.

A despatch received from Bialystok says that during the night, bands of the revolutionists twice made attacks upon the railroad depot. The troops repulsed both attacks.

St. Petersburg, June 18—The government has taken energetic steps to prevent further disorders in Jewish towns.

St. Petersburg, June 18.—An official announcement was made today to the effect that complete quiet has been restored at Bialystok. The governor has issued stringent instructions to the public that order must be preserved.

Berlin, June 18.—The German government has made representations to Russia that there is urgent necessity for quelling the outbreak at Bialystok on the ground that numerous German subjects in Bialystok and elsewhere are endangered. The Jews will benefit indirectly through this protest.

Effect of Mr. Bryan's Visit.

Berlin, June 18.—The correspondent of the Morgen Post at St. Petersburg wires his paper that the presence of William Jennings Bryan in the Russian capital caused a great flutter in court circles. The reactionary clique exploited Mr. Bryan's visit in an effort to incite the Czar against the progressist parties of the douma. They attempted to persuade Nicholas that Bryan was encouraging the constitutional democrats and the other progressist parties to resist the imperial authority. They added that it was improper for a foreigner to interfere in Russian affairs, and criminal for members of the Russian Parlianient to hatch conspiracies through the cooperation of a foreigner. The reactionists urged the Czar to expel Mr. Bryan from Russia on the ground that he had indulged in disrespectful utterances toward the Czar and the Russian government. Another court clique less reactionary than the former group advised making a diplomatic protest to Washington against a distinguished American citizen, candidate for the Presidency, conferring with the leaders of the Russian opposition parties, and expressing a semi-public opinion on the internal affairs of Russia at such a critical juncture as the present. The Russian secret service police shadowed Mr. Bryan from the moment he crossed the Russian frontier, traced his every movement and knew the names of every one with whom he conferred. In many cases they supplied the Minister of the Interior with genuine or fabricated reports of Mr. Bryan's conversations with Russian politicians.

The Czar received the advice of the reactionary cliques and accepted the counsel of his ministers who pointed out that any molestation of Mr. Bryan would create an unfavorable impression in the United States and turn public opinion of the civilized world against Russia. Mr. Bryan during his visit in Russia was probably unaware that he was the central figure of a reactionary and anti-foreign intrigue.

The Russian Douma.

London, June 18—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company telegraphs that the imperial ukase for the dissolution of the Douma has been signed by the Czar and that Premier Gormykin only need insert the date to make it effective. It is now reported that the idea of dissolving the douma, for which the Czar is said to have signed a decree, leaving the date blank, has been abandoned for the present. The douma concluded the debate on the agrarian question with a speece by deputy Stakhovitus, a moderate, who condemned the extremists for their threats of violence and pillage unless agrarian reforms are granted, but expressed his recognition of the necessity of enlarging the peasants' land rights, and said that any attempt to retard the Russian progressive movement would be a crime.

The Evening newspapers say that they have been informed that the proposal to dismiss the douma has met with resistance from the "highest power". At yesterday's conference at Peterhoff, many suggestions for bettering the situation were discussed. One of the proposals was to establish a parliamentary ministy with Mouromsteff, president of the Douma, as Premier. It was finally decided to publish a manifesto to calm the public, promising ready assistance in solving the land problem.

The douma situation is disquieting. A conflict between the deputies and the government seems to be inevitable, before the week is out. A majority of the douma members counted as moderates has decided to change their previous tactics of trying not to antagonize the ruling powers. This probably will lead to a clash of authority shortly.

John Mitchell, of Indianapolis and president of the miners, union, and Joseph Valentine, of Cincinnati, O., expect to attend sessions later in the week. Secretary Morrison in a report showed that the federation has on hand in cash $97,902 as compared with $114,265 eight months ago. During that period 215 charters to trade unions had been granted. Kidnapped Boy Discovered.

Philadelphia, June 18.—Little Freddie Muth, the seven year-old boy who was kidnapped last Tuesday and for whom the police and the detective corps have been searching, was discovered this afternoon in a supposedly empty house at 425 north 62d street on the extreme outskirts of the city.

The discovery was made by Special Policeman Claire, who had been working day and night on the case. With the boy at the time he was discovered, was his abductor, John J. Keane, a former prosperous broker.

The latter made no attempt to put up a fight, but was schackled and taken to the City Hall with the boy. The latter showed no ill effects from his imprisonment other than some slight effects from the drug, with which, it is alleged, the kidnapper had kept him partially stupefied.

Answer Disappointing.

Fall River, Mass., June 18.—The answer of the manufacturers association to the demand of the operatives for the restoration of the 12 1-4 per cent cut down of July, 1904, was made public this morning, and is in the nature of a disappointment. The answer is to be acted on by the five textile unions Wednesday night and, judging by the temper of the operatives today, it will not be accepted.

The shooting occurred when a launch, occupied by about fifteen union sailors, was fired on from the schooner National City, which lay at anchor near the Union Iron Works. It is said that it was the intention of those in the launch to have the crew of the National City, desert the vessel, which was scheduled to sail today. Evidently the men on the schooner were expecting a visit because when the launch was within range, a volley was discharged.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, June 18

SENATE

In the Senate today, Mr. McCumber urged action by the committee on agriculture on his resolution directing an investigation into grain inspection, charges, etc., in the northwest. He presented a letter from Superior, Wisconsin, endorsing his course.

Senator Tillman, in the Senate this afternoon, sharply criticised what he declared to be objectionable practices of Chicago national banks. He poured forth the vials of his indignation upon John R. Walsh, of that city, and the recent failure of his bank. He prefaced his remarks by calling attention to the fact that while the Senate had passed his bill, making it a misdemeanor for national banks to contribute to campaign expenses there was but slight hope that the measure would be given attention by the House of Representatives. He thought sinning national banks would be dipped in an "immunity bath," as to past offenses. Taking up the Walsh failure, he adverted to the declaration made by Mr. Hopkins that every cent of the liability had been paid. He said that he supposed that, in accordance with long established customs, the Comptroller of the Currency would report that there had been nothing blameable, nothing criminal, everything justifiable and eminently proper, and that he would report that the action of the Chicago clearing house was "a great act of financiering."

He had read a statement to the effect that the Walsh bank had been hopelessly insolvent, that the members of the clearing house knew it, and that they assumed the liabilities.

"Thus, the transactions of Walsh were in some matters criminal and in others mere transgressions" he declared. "And the Comptroller knew of these violations and did nothing," he exclaimed.

Mr. Aldrich, in defending the administration of the Comptroller of the Currency, declared that bank inspectors had reported the facts in the case: that the Comptroller had turned them over to the Department of Justice, and that the case was now in court.

"But he did not stop Walsh from making more loans to himself," retorted Mr. Tillman.

The incident was concluded by Mr. Tillman remarking that "we ought to have some regard for laws, even among national banks."

The Lake Erie and Ohio ship canal bill was then taken up.

Accosted the Wrong Lady.

Miss Kate Preston, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. J. T. Preston, in company with another young lady, left the house of the former on Alfred street, between King and Prince, shortly after 10 o'clock last night, and when they reached the vacant lot on the southwest corner of Prince and Alfred streets a burly negro stepped from behind a tree and caught hold of Miss Preston. She ordered the negro to release her, which he refused to do. Miss Preston's companion, knowing she had a pistol, suggested that she shoot her assailant. The darkey, upon hearing this, relaxed his hold upon the young woman when she stepped back, drew her pistol and discharged it at the rascal. The latter started to run, when Miss Preston again fired the pistol at the fugitive. A neighbor, in the meantime, blew a police whistle, when Officer Nicholson, who was about a square away, appeared. The negro, however, had in the meantime made his escape. Chief Goods, who was on King street, heard the reports of the pistol, and he also hastened to the scene. The young woman while in company with two female companions one night recently was accosted on the street by a negro, since which time she has been on the lookout for similar experiences, and last night, when she left her home with her companion, she took the precaution to carry a pistol. The family at one time lived at Colross, where they had to be on the lookout for tramps which at that time infested the neighborhood, and she learned early in life the use of a pistol.

Exciting Runaway.

A horse attached to a wagon belonging to M. Holzbeirlein's bakery in Washington became frightened at a train of cars which emerged from the west end of the Wilkes street tunnel this morning and ran south on the pavement on the east side of Fairfax street. One of the men in charge of the wagon had hold of the bridle of the horse when it became frightened. He retained his hold and attempted to stop the animal, but to no purpose, and was dragged half a square. One of the horses hoof's tore the man's shoe from his foot and he, falling, received painful injuries on other parts of his body. The wagon collided with a fence, tearing panels therefrom, and carried away a rainspout on a house farther down the square, also part of a fence. The horse was finally stopped. The watch of the man who received the injuries was smashed by the accident and the chain broken in pieces and scattered in the street, as were also most of the contents of the wagon, consisting of pies, cakes, bread, biscuits, &c.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Two white men, arrested by Officer Sherwood for habitual drunkenness, were sent to jail for 30 days.

Thomas Willis, arrested by Chief Goods for disorderly conduct on electric cars, was fined $5.

James Dunn, arrested by Officers Beach and Knight charged with vagrancy, was sent to the chain gang for 20 days.

Edward Elzey, colored, arrested by Officers Beach and Lyles charged with using vulgar and abusive language towards Rosetta Kitts, was dismissed.

Frank Gorman, Harry Williams and Michael Murphy, arrested by Chief Goods and Officers Smith, Ferguson and Bell charged with vagrancy, was sent to the chain gang for 20 days.

The Transfer Service.

It is again reported that orders have been issued for the abolition of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad transfer service between this city and Shepherds, on the opposite side of the river. It is also said that steps preliminary to such a procedure have been made, but nothing positive is, so far, known. About a year ago an order was issued to abolish the service, but it was later countermanded. Up to last Saturday night a double crew had been employed on the Brewerton and barge. A single crew is again operating the transfer. When the transfer of cars by the ferry shall have ceased the trains will pass over the Washington Southern Railway. This, however, it is thought will not be done until the new union yards north of Alexandria are completed.

Yesterday.

Yesterday was a quiet Sunday in this city and neighborhood, although many persons were on the streets and about the usual number of visitors were seen. Luna Park attracted numbers of Alexandrians who went to see the performance of the airship. The weather was sultry during the day, but towards its close there were refreshing showers which brought cooler conditions.

Rain and Hail.

There were copious rains, accompanied by thunder and lightning, in this city and vicinity late yesterday evening. West and south of Alexandria downpours were heavy, and in some parts of Fairfax county hail fell. In places the hail stones were of large size, and it is said they could have been gathered by the shovelfull.

Only 96 dog licenses have been issued to date. One year ago on June 18th 350 had been issued.

Dental Examination.

The Virginia State Board of Dental Examiners, which had been in session in Richmond for several days, adjourned their annual meeting Friday night. Aside from the large class of applicants that were examined, many subjects of importance were discussed. Among them was the question of reciprocity between the States as to exchange of certificates.

A list of the successful candidates will be given out as soon as their papers are examined, which will take some time.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were Dr. H. W. Campbell, Suffolk president; Dr. R. H. Walker, of Norfolk, secretary and treasurer, and Dr. John F. Stiff, of Fredericksburg, assistant secretary.

The following delegates were elected to the National Association of Dental Examiners, which will meet in Atlanta: Dr. H. W. Campbell and Dr. R. H. Walker.

Not Kidnapped.

Charles Muth, father of Freddie Muth, the seven-year-old boy who it was said was kidnapped last Tuesday, astounded Captain of Detectives Donaghy in Philadelphia last night by admitting that he knew all along where his son was, and who had abducted him. He did not admit it, however, until the detective chief cornered him, after a severe sweating-out, and calmly told him he did not believe a word he had said about the kidnapping. The father then reluctantly said he knew where the boy was, but for reasons which he would never divulge he would not say why he had allowed the imposition to be practiced on the public or on the police.

His wife, he said, knew nothing of the falsity of the story, and her grief has been genuine. The father intimated the boy had got into the hands of relatives and was all right.

Love at First Sight.

A romance that had its beginning in the hunting field was brought to a happy culmination by the marriage of Miss Pauline Platt, daughter of Col. J. D. Platt, a multi-millionaire of Dayton, O., and Frederick William Okie, of Marshall, which was solemnize in the home the bride's parents last week. Mr. Okie and Miss Platt first met at a drag hunt near Upperville. It was a case of love at first sight, and in a short time their engagement was announced. Mr. Okie is a member of a prominent Virginia family and is a horseman. His bride is an enthusiastic horsewoman. The couple will spend a great part of their time at the groom's country place at Marshall.

Mr. Jones Renominated.

Hon. Wm. A. Jones, who for 16 years has represented the First Virginia district in Congress, was nominated to succeed himself in Saturday's democratic primary—the new First district's initial election. The returns are yet incomplete. Representative Jones carried the district by a large majority. This means that he will go to Congress for the ninth consecutive time. Mr. Otho F. Mears, of Northampton county, the defeated candidate, appears to have received a substantial complimentary vote.

Animals and Fire.

Rattlesnakes won't run from fire, but instead strike till the last at the flames about them. This is true of many animals, especially of horses, who will rush back into a burning barn, apparently blind with rage, striking with their hoofs and switching their tails in great anger.

The flight of wild birds during migrating time against lighthouses is more like the action of the green bicyclist who rides against a trolley car or wagon as if hypnotized by it and in spite of his fears.

Gorillas, it is said, delight in fire, drawing closer to the flames as the fire dies down and at last wading in the redhot ashes, apparently enchanted and not feeling the burning coals.

A little fire built beneath one of the pear shaped paper wasp nests that are seen hanging from low branches will kill every wasp in it, as the insects fly at it one by one in their endeavors to save their home and young.

Frogs leap through the flames of a little bonfire time and time again, as if having the most pleasing of fun. It may be, though, that they think the flickering flames to be some new sort of insect.

Strange Captivity.

The springbok of South Africa migrate in vast herds, moving in a compact body and carrying everything before them. If a flock of sheep be in the line of march—as it sometimes happens—it is surrounded, enveloped and becomes, willingly or unwillingly, part of the army. An African hunter tells the strange story of seeing a lion in the midst of the antelopes, forced to join the march. It is supposed that the lion had sprung too far for his prey, that those upon whom he alighted recoiled sufficiently to allow him to reach the ground, and then the pressure from both flanks and the rear prevented him from escaping from his strange captivity. If the springbok travels in such armies, how can those in the middle and rear find food? In this wise: Those in the front ranks, after they have eaten greedily of the pasture, gradually fall out of the ranks to rest, while the hungry ones in the rear come up, and so the columns are all the while changing.

Had Him Beat.

The head day porter and the head night porter of a hotel, according to the San Francisco Chronicle, became involved in a discussion on ages. The head night porter confessed to thirty-eight.

"H'm! Say, I've got you beat ten years," declared the head day.

"You mean to tell me you're only twenty-eight?" demanded the head night.

"I should say not. I's just forty-eight," explained the head day, with an expression of withering disdain.

"Then you ain't got me beat no ten years. I's got you beat just ten years. Say, I got ten years comin' that you won't see again."

"Look here, man," declared the head day, "you ain't got no sense. I's sure of them ten years, 'cause I's seem 'em an' been through 'em. You ain't sure of yours. You might die tomorrow."

A Source of Contagion.

It has been proved by abundant investigation that one prolific source of epidemic diseases is found in the liability of the germs of such diseases to lodge in the mouth around the teeth and gums. A physician examined the teeth of the children of a certain school. He found disease germs present in almost every case. By careful watching he discovered that those children whose teeth were kept cleanest suffered less from epidemic diseases. The neglected condition of the teeth is, therefore, a common cause of illness. Indeed, if one takes the trouble to observe with what rapidity the tartar and cheesy matter accumulate around the teeth of people who are out of health they will not be long in making up their minds that a thorough and judicious use of the toothbrush is not very far from a means of grace.

Cheap Courting.

There lived in the town of Epping, N. H., an old man who was noted for his penuriousness. One winter the schoolteacher boarded at his house, and she had a beau who came once a week to spend the evening with her. This, of course, necessitated heating and lighting the parlor.

Nothing was said about this item of expense at the end of the term when the teacher paid her board bill, but the next day, happening to meet the young man on the street, the old man accosted him and, after a few preliminaries about the weather, remarked: "You know we've been to some little extra expense this winter running that fire in the parlor for you and teacher. I didn't say anything to her, but I thought perhaps you'd be willing to make it right."

"Why, yes," replied the young man, "I am willing to pay anything reasonable, of course. How much do you think you ought to have?"

"Waal," drawled out Mr. B., "I guess 'bout 10 cents will do."—Boston Herald.

Uniforms to Scare the Enemy.

Red uniforms were first adopted by the Emperor Valerius Maximus in order that the Roman soldiers might not be frightened by the sight of their own blood. To this day the children of England are told that this is the reason why French troops wear red trousers, and French children are taught the same notion respecting the red coats of the British. The legionaries of ancient Rome wore the skins of bears on the field of battle to make them look fierce. For the same reason they put figures of frightful beasts on their shields and helmets. From this odd custom spring modern crests and armorial bearings. The idea of scaring the enemy by such devices has been perpetuated up to quite recent times. Tall bearskin hats were originally adopted to make them look taller by the French cuirassiers, each of whom carried a handful of grenades for scattering among the ranks of their foe.

Monkeys and Cocoanuts.

"The old story about monkeys climbing up cocoanut trees and firing nuts down on people that pass under them, as related in the old fashioned story books, is exploded by the facts," remarked a man who has been in South America. "The fact is that cocoanuts are never plucked off the trees. They are fastened on by a fiber that would require the strength of a Hercules to break, and no monkey was ever born in the world that could pluck one of them. I have read many stories about monkeys climbing these trees, but after five years' experience as a resident of Porto Cortes, Honduras, during which time my business has taken me out in the forests, I have never seen a monkey attempt to climb a cocoanut tree. They have no limbs, only a small bunch of foliage on the top, and each tree bears from eight to ten nuts."

A Peculiar City.

A traveler's tale has it that Nanghanu, a Siamese city, home of the royal family, is a sort of municipal harem. Its population is composed of women and children alone. It is in the center of Bangkok, has high walls around it, and in its population of 9,000 there is not a single man, though the king occasionally pays a visit. There are shops, markets, temples, theaters, streets and avenues, parks, lakes, trees and flower gardens, a hall of justice, judges, executioner, police, generals and soldiers, all the positions, official and otherwise, being filled by women. The only man in all Siam who can enter this city is the king.

The First Sapphire.

There is an Indian legend that Brahma, the creator, once committed a sin that he might know the torments of remorse and thus be able to sympathize with mortals. But the moment he had committed it he began repeating the mantras, or prayers of purification, and in his grief dropped on the earth a tear, the hottest that ever fell from an eye, and from it was formed the first sapphire.

Wondrous Evolution.

"In the slow evolution of the race," mused the elephant, looking with languid interest at the throng of curious gazers that stood on the outside of the ropes and fed him with cakes, peanuts and candy, "how many millions of years it must require to evolve from the shapeless and rudimentary projection on the face of the creature called man the full and perfect proboscis!"

The Dardanelles.

The Dardanelles is celebrated in ancient history on account of Xerxes and Alexander having crossed it, the former in 480 B. C. to enter Europe and the latter in 334 B. C. to enter Asia. At the point where Alexander crossed young Leander nightly swam the Hellespont to visit Hero—a feat performed in modern times by Lord Byron.

Making It Worse.

"What silly verses that woman is reciting!"

"I wrote them, sir!"

"Ah—oh, yes—to be sure—clever lines, but horribly delivered, don't you know. Woman must be a fool to bungle 'em so. Who is she?"

"My wife, sir!"

Freak of Lightning.

Mrs. Thomas Lynch was picking lettuce in her garden at No. 416 Fulton street, Union Hill, N. J., on last Sunday afternoon, when a storm descended. She went to her gate with a glass dish in her hand. Just then lightning struck so close by that her hand, touching the gate, felt the shock. She found that her fingers clasped the dish so tightly that she could not put it down. After some hours a feeling of numbness left her arm, her hand lost its cramp and she could loose her hold on the dish. Next morning the arm became black and swollen. On it, between the shoulder and elbow, pale figures began to appear. Finally they showed plainly, printed on the skin, a picture of a bird resembling a pheasant, a picture of a snake, and characters like the Chinese inscriptions on boxes of tea. The strange devices on Mrs. Lynch's arm are now a reddish color and remarkably clear.

Damn and Hell Not Curse Words.

Mrs. E. Virginia Brown, the fashionably attired divorced wife of a Baltimore optician, startled the Criminal Court of that city last Friday by her vigorous flow of language. She was charged with being a common scold. When a policeman testified she was disorderly on the streets, she shouted, "It's a lie," It was testified she told a man she intended to "Knock his block off." When Mrs. Brown took the stand she said: "Gentlemen of the jury, they say that I use profane language. I don't. I only say 'damn and hell,' and a lawyer once told me that they are not bad words, for a dam is a place holding water." When her attorney asked her to retire, she replied: "Not on your life. I am not through. I am a privileged woman, free born and 21—not 23." The Judge fined her $15, and unless the money is forthcoming she will go to jail.

A Miraculous Cure.

The following statement, by H. M. Adams and wife, Henrietta, Pa., will interest parents and others. "A miraculous cure has taken place in our home. Our child had eczema 5 years and was pronounced incurable, when we read about Electric Bitters, and concluded to try it. Before the second bottle was all taken we noticed a change for the better, and after taking 7 bottles he was completely cured." It's the up-to-date blood medicine and body building tonic. Guaranteed. 50c and $1.00 at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Notice to City Tax Payers.

Collector's Office, June 16, 1906.

Notice is hereby given that the tax-bills for 1906, are now in the hands of the collector. The attention of parties interested is respectfully called to the following extract from the revenue bill of this year:

"Upon all bills paid in full by the 1st day of July, 1906, the collector of taxes shall allow a discount of ten per cent., and on all bills paid by the 1st of September, 1906, he shall allow a discount of five per cent, and on all bills not paid by the first day of December, 1906, there shall be assessed and collected a penalty of five per cent upon the amount of said bills, and on all bills remaining unpaid on the 1st day of June, 1907, damages at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be paid."

Tax payers would do well to call and pay at once in order to avoid the rush and crowd usually present on the last days in which the discount is allowed.

Bring a list to make sure you get bills for all your property, as the collector will not be responsible or allow the discount after the time fixed by law.

P. F GORMAN,
je16 t jy1 Collector of Taxes.

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS!

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Alexandria, Va., June 8, 1906.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the Dog or Canine species should come forward on or before and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring Dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $3 or $5.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that others pay on one or two Dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such Dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

The police officers will be required to report all violations of this law.

In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor.

FRED. J. PAFF, Mayor.

The following is a copy of Section 54 of the license law. "On every dog, regardless of sex, one dollar and fifty cents."
